

Medford Leas LIFE

SPECIAL EDITION

SPRING 2001

LIFE AT LUMBERTON LEAS

by Mike Peasley, Executive Director

All of Medford Leas is grateful to Lois Forrest and the Estaugh Board for having the foresight to add Lumberton Leas to the family of Medford Leas campuses. Ground-breaking for Lumberton Leas was in April of 1998. The first residents arrived in June of 1999. Construction is currently expected to be complete in June of 2001, with only four Lifecare contracts remaining available at this writing.

Since our arrival in June, 2000, my wife and I have had the good fortune to reside at Lumberton Leas. We have enjoyed the tennis courts, the Fitness Center, the trails in the wilderness areas of the site with access to the Rancocas Creek, and the walking paths around the property, and soon we will all have the use of the outdoor swimming pool and the whirlpool hot tub.

There have been many interesting gatherings in the Community Center, such as the Super Bowl party where we watched the game on a huge TV picture projected on the end wall of the Great Room. It was fun to watch the game with a group of friends, sharing refreshments and each other's company, and critiquing the plays!

There are also parties in the homes of residents. One of those occurred during The Big Snow this year. It all seemed to happen spontaneously. There, delivered to our front door on the day of the most snow, was a computer-generated invitation to a neighborhood Blizzard Party at the Obbard's home that afternoon! We all brought refreshments to share and entered their home through the garage leaving our wet shoes out there. It was lots of fun! A wonderful, caring, neighborhood feeling is already enjoyed by the residents of Lumberton Leas.

These new residents also welcome ways to become involved with the larger Medford Leas community. Many are engaged in MLRA committee work, and they are also planning programs to reach out to residents of our other campuses to join them in future events at Lumberton Leas. The lives of all residents are enriched with the addition of these new members of our Medford Leas family from Lumberton Leas.

MY WORD

by Kitty Katzell, Editor

Between November of 1999 and December of 2000, Medford Leas Life published the biographies of some 34 households at Lumberton Leas, but still we were way behind and getting further behind with every passing month. Doris Brown had been interviewing new occupants whenever she could, but the backlog kept growing. What to do?

In consultation with Marge Sagett, Mike Peasley, Marianne Steely, and the Medford Leas Life editorial staff, it was decided that a special issue would be devoted to Lumberton Leas, focusing primarily on the biographies of those who had occupied their units before January, 2001.

Consequently, in January, a letter went out from the Editor to those residents of Lumberton Leas whose biographies had not yet appeared asking that they write, in 150 words or less, their own biographies, including information that they would like their neighbors to know about them. It was a cruel assignment! How could a couple summarize in 150 words or less what amounted to 150 years of living, if both were 75 years old? But most people came through.

The edited versions were returned to their respective owners for final approval on March 1 with a request for their consent, if not approval, by March 20. It was hoped that this special issue could be in print early in April.

Meantime, Mike Peasley, Executive Director, who is living temporarily in one of the Lumberton Leas units, agreed to write the lead article for this special issue. And Marge Sagett, Residency Planning Associate who works primarily with Lumberton Leas, agreed to write a marketing update.

At this point, it seems quite certain that another special issue will be needed to catch up with the residents that have moved to Lumberton

Leas since January 2001, and if that is the case, so be it. They are a most welcome addition to the Medford Leas family and we look forward to knowing them better.

Listed below, in alphabetical order, are the 34 households whose biographies were published earlier, with the dates of the issues of Medford Leas Life in which their stories appeared and their addresses.

LUMBERTON LEAS MARKETING UPDATE

by Marge Sagett

Only four units remain available at Lumberton Leas. They are all two bedroom units, and all include a lifecare contract.

It may be surprising to learn that 45 of the 110 homes were contracted to people who had been on the Medford Leas waiting list. So, Last Call... This is a great opportunity for waiting list members, friends, relatives, and those who are still undecided to move to this exciting new community.

At last count, 82 units were occupied, with a new closing almost every day. It is expected that the final building will be complete around the end of June, 2001. It is also anticipated that by June or July, we will have almost a full house and a full swimming pool!

Readers who are interested in the possibility of moving to Lumberton Leas should call Marge Sagett at 609-654-3279 or 1-800-331-4302.

Jack & Joyce Akerboom, 64 Woodside Dr. (609-518-1776) lived in Basking Ridge, NJ for some 30 years before moving to Lumberton Leas. Jack graduated from Lehigh with a degree in Chemical Engineering and spent his entire career with Best Foods, becoming VP of R&D. Joyce is from Massachusetts, graduated from Swarthmore, taught for two years, then worked five years in a New York City bank before marriage and two sons. Aside from volunteer work, she more recently has pursued genealogy and outdoor gardening. Jack is interested in photography, genealogy, wood-working, and cooking. Travel trips have included Russia, mainland China, and Europe.

Mary Barth, 152 Woodside Dr. (609-702-5682) moved here from Lawrenceville, NJ. Born and raised in Nebraska, she graduated from the University of Nebraska with a degree in chemistry. She completed a Master's in toxicology at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor while working in the toxicology research laboratory in the School of Public Health, and moved to New Jersey in 1982 to work for Mobil Oil at their research facility near Princeton. After retiring in 1996, she continued to work part-time at Mobil facilities first in Moorestown and then in Paulsboro through 1999.

In Ann Arbor, Mary was a member of the Michigan Botanical Society and the Friends of the Matthaei Botanical Gardens, where she was active in growing and harvesting dried flowers for the group's fund-raising bazaar. Since retirement, she has been taking classes in quilt making and plans to continue that activity at Lumberton Leas.

George & Joanne "Jody" (Sargent) Cardona, 72 Woodside Dr. (609-267-7222) had lived in Moorestown since 1982. Before that, they had lived in Philadelphia since 1960. George is a professor of Linguistics, specializing in Sanskrit grammar, at the University of Pennsylvania. He grew up in Brooklyn and attended New York University and Yale. Jody grew up in Waxahachie and San Antonio, TX, and attended Middlebury College and Drexel. They have two sons, George, a lawyer in Los Angeles, and James, a civilian computer specialist for the Philadelphia police force. They also have a grandson, Russell, James's son born in September, 2000. Jody was a school librarian for 25 years, the last 19 at Moorestown Friends School. Recently, she went back to school and got a JD from Rutgers Camden Law School. Aside from professional reading, George & Jody share a passion for mysteries, word games, and Harry Potter.

John & Ethel (Reisse) Cebra, 164 Woodside (609-267-3799) moved from Medford, NJ. They were both born and raised in Philadelphia. John attended the University of Pennsylvania and Rockefeller University, and Ethel attended Temple University, Hunter College, and Johns Hopkins University. They and their four children were a 'university family' in Gainesville, Baltimore, and finally Philadelphia when John returned to Penn. John is Professor of Biology and Ethel is the Research Specialist who coordinates the activities of their research laboratory studying mucosal immunology and vaccine development. In the course of their studies and research, they have spent sabbaticals in England, Israel, Australia, the Netherlands, Norway, Taiwan, and the Czech Republic. Their principal shared avocations are (eco)-travel, relaxed bird-watching, and a hopeless effort to influence the development of their four grandchildren. NJ Audubon is their favorite organization, followed by the Aquarium and the Philadelphia Zoo. John enjoys vegetable growing and Ethel trying to expand the palate of friends and relations.

The buffet table at one of the many gatherings

Judy & Paul Coward, live at 47 Woodside (609-518-3288) with two precocious terriers, Fred & Ginger. Judith Lynn Roshong married Paul Coward in her hometown of Canton, OH in 1962. Their well-traveled path over the last 38 years included stops in Bethel Park, PA, Cinnaminson, Moorestown, Medford, and Marlton, NJ. They are proud parents of four vibrant, talented, and beautiful children and five lively grandchildren.

Paul remains active as a manufacturer's representative. Judy, a director of Coward Environmental Systems, Inc., is responsible for directing its health care program and is a trustee of its profit-sharing plan. They will be transferring ownership of the company to a valued employee during 2001 and plan to enjoy the fruits of partial retirement. They look forward to giving to a community that cares

Jim & Gladys (Akerboom) Cox moved to 218 Woodside (609-518-3236) after spending 42 years in Haddonfield. Both grew up in South Jersey and graduated from the same high school. After spending 2½ years majoring in electrical engineering at Duke, Jim left for Naval duty in both the European and the Pacific areas. Meanwhile, Gladys worked as a secretary for various department supervisors at Owens-Illinois Glass Company.

They married in 1947, and Jim spent 37 years working as an engineer for New Jersey Bell, retiring in 1985. He is an avid golfer and a member of Medford Lakes Country Club. He is also a member of the Haddonfield Lions Club.

They are the proud parents of four married children and five grandchildren. Gladys spent many years as a caregiver for relatives and friends in need of a "helping hand." Bridge, gardening, counted cross-stitch and reading are her favorite hobbies.

Anthony & Barbara (Kite) Cristoforo, 52 Woodside (609-914-0389) met during their high school years. Cris went off to Johns Hopkins University, then to Temple U. School of Medicine. Barbara went to Pierce Business School, coupled with medical courses at a Philadelphia hospital, becoming an office manager/secretary for a cardiologist. Cris had finished his internship and they were ready to settle down when Uncle Sam called upon him to "serve his time." By then, they had their first child and were ordered to Pensacola for flight training. Their second child was born in Florida. They next received transfer orders for Ford Ord, CA, and with two babies, 14 months apart, they drove across the country. When overseas orders came for Cris, Barbara returned to New Jersey to be with family. After Korea, Cris received a fellowship for Arthritis specialty and two more children arrived. He joined a large internal medicine group in Moorestown and Barbara finally received her Ph.D. in Motherhood. They lived in Edgewater Park for 32 years. While their knees would still bend, they decided to downsize their large home and move to Lumberton Leas.

Mary (Jackson) Doerr, 163 Woodside Drive (609-267-1683) lived in Mt. Holly for 27 years before moving to Lumberton Leas. She was born in North Wildwood, earned a BA from Susquehanna University, and a Master's in social work from Penn. She was employed by the New Jersey Division of Youth and Family Services where she assumed supervisory and administrative positions. She retired in 1984. Mary's husband, William H., was a native of Canada where he earned a BA and MA from the University of Toronto. Before his death in 1980, he held the position of Executive Director of the Children's Home in Mt. Holly. At the time of his death, he was Executive Director of Family Counseling Service in Camden. An avid bridge player, Mary is looking forward to finding many challenging partners at the Community Center. She owns a cottage on Wrighter Lake in Thompson, PA, where she plans to return for the summer.

Claire Engle, 172 Woodside (609-267-1139) was born in Summit, NJ. She attended Cornell University in Ithaca, NY, where she earned a BS in bacteriology. She also has an MS and a Ph.D. in microbiology from Rutgers.

Claire was employed for over 30 years in the pharmaceutical industry, having worked for Schering Corp. in Bloomfield, NJ; Smith Kline and French Laboratories in Philadelphia; and CIBA-GEIGY Pharmaceuticals in Summit. Her broad-based research and development experience included responsibility for virus research and also for the support services of the Research Department at CIBA-GEIGY. She took early retirement in 1990 to care for her aging parents. Following their deaths, she and her long-time friend, Nancy Stevens, lived in North Carolina and in New York, before moving to Lumberton Leas with their two miniature poodles.

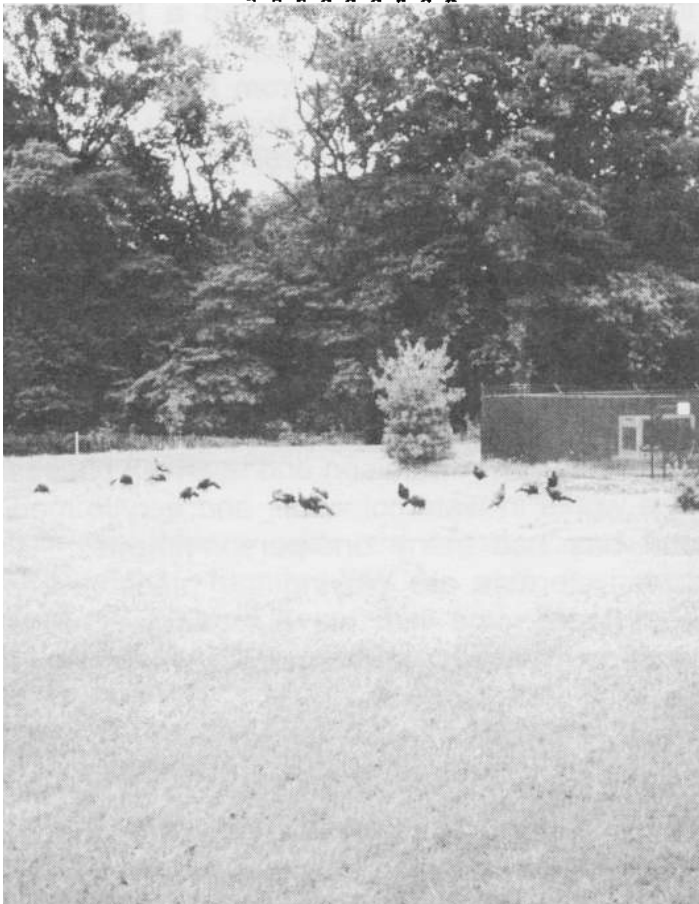

Pierre & Dolores (Gorney) Guilhot, 49 Woodside (609-518-9501) moved here from New York City. Pierre, born in Morocco of French parents, grew up in the French countryside. After his lycée baccalaureat, the family immigrated to the U.S. He completed his studies at NYU and embarked on a career of sales management and distribution of European steel to the American industrial market in heavy equipment.

Pierre's personal interests include soccer (he played in an amateur league in France and a professional league in the U.S.); gardening at their place in the Catskills; reading, music; yoga; and -- Frenchman that he is -- food and wine. He has a black belt in Karate.

Dolores, born and bred in NYC, earned a BA in English and American literature from Brooklyn College, then spent a year in the Fulbright program teaching English to lycée students in France. She also studied at Smith College, Bryn Mawr, and for six months, the Sorbonne. In New York, she worked in editorial publishing at a trade journal, in academic texts, and, for 25 years, with Forbes Magazine. Dolores loves music, reading, "spectator" gardening, and cooking the foods Pierre grows. She characterizes herself as a homebody.

Kornelis (Keith) & Elizabeth (Kamminga) Gyswyt, 91 Woodside Drive (609-518-7182) were born and raised in Rotterdam, Holland. Keith has a degree in Naval Architecture and Marine Engineering and was employed by a consultant engineering firm in Rotterdam when he met Liz, who was secretary to the director of the company. He subsequently moved to Newcastle, England, then to Quebec City, Canada, serving as a design and construction engineer for shipyards and engineering firms. Liz joined him in Quebec City, where they were married. They have lived in Cleveland, Philadelphia (where he worked with the J. J.

Henry Co., as Head of the Scientific Department and Program Manager), and Cherry Hill. Before retiring in 1984, Keith taught a course in naval architecture at Temple for a year. He was Chairman of the Philadelphia Section of the Society of Naval Architects and Marine Engineers, Chairman of the Wilderness Acres Assn., and active in Boy Scouts and the United Cerebral Palsy Assn. Liz likes to sew, crochet, create dried and silk flower arrangements, and design small handicraft projects. Keith enjoys chess and classical music. They winter in Florida.

The wild turkeys that were around last fall

Harry & Doris (Langford) Harrison, 19 Woodside (609-261-8123). Harry was born in Haddonfield, one of five children. He served in the U.S. Army, spending two years in Korea during the conflict. After the service, he was with Otis Elevator for 12 years. He then spent the rest of his career with The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co., retiring as Director of Property Development. He enjoys gardening, collecting and refinishing antiques. He is on the Board of Trustees for the Protestant Community Church.

Doris was raised in Florida and moved to Haddonfield where she attended school and met Harry. She worked as a secretary for RCA and retired several years ago. She was a member of the Medford Township Planning Board, as well as the Historical Advisory Board. She belongs to the Woman's Club, the Medford Historic Society, and is a Quester member. Doris enjoys theatre, gardening, reading, and collecting antiques.

Jim & Margery (Forrest) Honan, 222 Woodside (609-914-0950) lived in Moorestown. They were raised in central Indiana. Jim received his BA from DePauw University, and his Master's and Ph.D. from Purdue. He spent three years in the European area attached to the Third Army Headquarters during WW-II. Marge graduated from Ball State University and taught elementary school for five years before their marriage in 1947. Jim accepted a position as economist with Interstate Milk Producers Cooperative in the Philadelphia area. He later became their General Manager and continued in that position until retiring in 1983. The Honans have one living son and three grandchildren.

They have been active in the First Presbyterian Church in Moorestown, Marge as a Sunday School teacher, deacon, and choir member; Jim still serves on the Board of Trustees. He was also involved in local government in Moorestown, serving on Town Council and as chairman of the Planning and Zoning Boards. He enjoys golf, and is on the course whenever possible in warm weather. Both are involved in leading the South Jersey Dystonia Support Group for patients with different forms of dystonia.

Les & Patti (Dee) Hopton, 160 Woodside (609-518-0222) lived in Moorestown for 39 years. Patti was born and raised in Indiana and majored in religion at Wellesley. Les grew up in Plainfield, NJ. He majored in management at MIT and did financial planning and computer work at Campbell Soup for 34 years. They met on a blind date and were married the day Patti graduated from Wellesley.

They are members of Moorestown Friends Meeting, where Patti is the librarian and on the Worship and Ministry Committee and Les is a recording clerk and on the Finance Committee. From time to time, Patti attends conferences and takes courses at Pendle Hill. Les is active in Friends' quarterly and yearly meetings and is president of the local League of Women Voters. He has been a scoutmaster and a member of Moorestown's Township Council. They have two sons and four grandchildren

Marilyn (Pritchard) Immendorf, 131 Woodside (609-261-0878) lived in Burlington for 25 years. She attended Lankenau Hospital School of Nursing in Bala-Cynwyd and received her BS from the University of Pennsylvania. She and her late husband, Charles, lived in Bayonne, where he was pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church and she worked as a Psychiatric Nurse. When Charles joined the faculty at the Lutheran Bible Institute, they moved to Teaneck. They had three children, and Marilyn did part-time nursing when they were young.

While in Burlington, Lynn took courses at Glassboro State College (now Rowan University) to fulfill certification requirements for Nursery School Teaching. She and a friend established, and still operate, the Dor-Lyn Pre-school program at Holy Trinity Lutheran Church in Burlington where Charles was pastor. The school has now expanded to include facilities at the Presbyterian Church of Burlington with a combined enrollment of some 170 children.

Lynn relaxes with knitting, reading, and listening to music. She also enjoys theater and travel. She has six grandchildren.

Joseph & Rita (Chiancone) Keiper, 100 Woodside (609-267-7757) lived most of their 52 married years in Madison, NJ, where they raised their son and daughter and lived until moving to Convent Station 10 years ago. Born in Packerton, PA, Joe received a Ph.B. from Muhlenberg College, MBA from the University of Pennsylvania, and Ph.D. from NYU. After 43 years on the faculty of the NYU Graduate School of Business he retired as Emeritus Professor of Economics. He was consultant to AT&T, Con Edison, NY Telephone, and Manufacturers Hanover Bank, and Director and co-author of studies for the Commerce and Industry Assn. of NY, the Lincoln Foundation, and the Alfred P. Sloan Foundation.

Rita was born in Madison and is an avid painter. She works in watercolor, oil, and acrylic media and has had many one-person shows. Her other interests are playing the piano and an occasional romp with her flute. Rita and Joe enjoy tennis and their four grandchildren.

Martin & Doris (Dukes) Klaver, 140 Woodside (609-261-8544) lived in Sicklerville, NJ; they are originally from Delaware. After his BA from Haverford, Martin got his MA at the University of Wisconsin. He spent his junior year in Munich, Germany. He retired in 1992 as Chief Industrial Engineer for Lenox China, Pomona, NJ, after 25 years, then retired again in 1998 as Director of Information Systems for North East Treatment Centers in Philadelphia.

Doris earned her BA from the University of Delaware. Initially, she worked for the States of Delaware and New Jersey as a counselor in the Employment Service. She retired from Camden County in 1997 as penal counselor after 15 years. She is currently researching her Staats ancestry family history.

The Klavers like to travel. They are tradjazz festival followers and their enthusiasm takes them to California. Martin stays involved with state-of-the-art computer technology and skis in Vermont. He maintains his website at:

<<http://www.members.home.com/maklaver>>

Tom & June (Martinson) Krainik, 120 Woodside (609-702-7344) lived in Moorestown. Tom worked for Campbell Soup Co. in the Product Development Department. He graduated from the University of Wisconsin after serving in the Infantry during WW-II. His division fought in the Battle of the Bulge. June graduated from St. Mary's School of Nursing in Rochester, MN. They have three children and six grandchildren.

Tom volunteers with the Red Cross, the Moorestown Family YMCA, and Samaritan Hospice. June was the first Director of Volunteers for Samaritan Hospice and continues to be involved as a patient volunteer. They are both active in the First United Methodist Church in Moorestown.

Ed & Ann (Domenico) Naulty, 156 Woodside Dr. (609-265-1188) lived in Medford Lakes for 32 years before coming to Lumberton Leas. Ed grew up in Philadelphia and went to Temple University after serving in the Army in WW-II. He then went to work in the Advertising Department of the Philadelphia Bulletin, and from there joined the Daily News/Philadelphia Inquirer. Ann was born in Philadelphia and raised in this area. She worked at Girard Trust Corn Exchange Bank in Center City as a book-keeper until she married, then became a housewife and raised four children. She started working at Medford Leas in the Dietary Department in 1975, but moved to Activities a year later, where she worked until they moved to Lumberton Leas. As a result of Ann's work in the Activities program, Gerri Stride recruited Ed to help set up the Fitness Center at Medford Leas. He was assisted by two volunteers, Bill Stickle and John McGrath, from LeisureTowne. Ann's mother is a Medford Leas resident, Mary Domenico.

Berta (Rogers) Numata, 175 Woodside Dr. (609-265-3856) had lived in Madison and Harding Townships for 45 years before moving to Lumberton Leas. Her husband, Edward, died in 1997. Her parents, Drs. Alan & Eleanor Rogers, lived at Medford Leas from 1971 to 1988. Berta is a graduate of Cooper Medical Center School of Nursing and Jefferson Medical College's anesthesia program as a nurse anesthetist. During WW-II, she served in the Army Nurse Corps in Burma and India. After the war, she married, had three children, and went back to school to become a nurse practitioner in Women's Health, working for Planned Parenthood of Northwest NJ for 25 years.

Berta was a founding member of the Cheshire Home for the Disabled in Florham Park, NJ, and continues on their Long Range Planning Committee. The Leonard Cheshire Homes were started in England after WW-II for homeless and disabled war veterans, but now provide homes for the disabled throughout Africa, Asia, South America and the U.S.

Faith "Fay" (Slevin) Quillen, 202 Woodside Dr., (609-518-0092) was born in Philadelphia and went to public schools until 9th grade, when she moved to Friends Central School. She attended Taylor Business School, where she met Minerva Sarfert, who now lives in Rushmore. After graduating from Taylor, she worked for six years for Gulf Oil Corporation. At Gulf, she met her husband, Louis Quillen. When he retired, Fay and Lou moved to Ocean City, NJ, and lived there until Lou died. Fay has a daughter, son-in-law, and two grandchildren living in Colorado, and a son and daughter-in-law living in Holland, PA.

Janice (Yent) & Mahlon Saibel moved to 214 Woodside Dr. (261-3510 <Msaibel@aol.com>) after 41 years in Cherry Hill. Both were born in Pittsburgh. High school sweethearts, they married after graduation from Carnegie-Mellon University. Janice has been a teacher-librarian and community volunteer for the PTA, AAUW, and served for 22 years as Chairperson of the Visiting Nurse Service System.

Mahlon has worked in and around the apparel manufacturing industry. The U.S. Army brought the Saibels to Philadelphia for his service time to look after the quality of military uniforms. There followed factory engineering consulting in the USA and Europe; selling Singer sewing machines from Hong Kong in Asia, Australia, Africa and the Sub-Continent; selling sewing machines for a Japanese firm in North and South America; directing manufacturing activities of a multi-national apparel firm; directing marketing for a CAD/CAM apparel industry supplier with a global customer base; a partner in a Turkish firm supplying CAD/CAM products in the Middle East; and, most recently, developing anti-counterfeiting technology for apparel products. He retired on 01/01/01 -- maybe.

The Saibels summer on Long Beach Island. They have two daughters and two granddaughters. Janice enjoys bridge, Mahlon tennis, and together they enjoy travel.

Karin M. Sannwald, 32 Woodside Drive (609-518-1057) was one of five daughters of Adolf Sannwald, a noted Lutheran minister. Born in Stuttgart, Germany, she came to the US in 1957 with her American husband. The marriage produced two sons, now living in Germany and Australia, giving Karin ample opportunities to travel. Karin bought a "fixer-upper" in Berlin, NJ, renovated it herself, and lived there for 25 years. She earned a Masters at Rutgers, attended the Philadelphia Family Institute and received Family Therapist certification. She then worked for the Camden County Board of Social Services, and was involved with the protection of the elderly. During this time, she lived in Haddonfield and began her private counseling practice on a part-time basis. Currently, she is a consultant for Penn Friends, an affiliate of the University of Pennsylvania and Friends' Hospital, located in Marlton. She also receives family counseling referrals from Philadelphia Yearly Meeting through a subsidized service. Karin participates in Elderhostel programs, especially those involving bicycle tours or snorkeling, plays the piano, and enjoys sewing, reading, music, and fine art.

Henry & Pauline (Goller) Schnepf, 84 Woodside Dr. (609-261-6183) lived in a Medford Lakes log cabin for 16 years and then Medford for 15 years. They met at the University of Delaware where Hank played football and majored in Physical Education, and Polly captained the cheerleading squad and majored in Business Administration. Having served three years in the Marine Corps before attending Delaware, Hank was called back into service during the Korean crisis and returned to finish his education. He also has a master's from Glassboro State.

Polly worked as a statistician in a mental hospital, then returned to her first love, dancing. She opened a studio and also worked for Fred Astaire Studios. Hank began teaching at Mount Holly High School, then transferred to Lenape, where he was head of the Physical Education Department, Vice Principal, and Athletic Director, and coached football, cross country and wrestling. He is a member of the South Jersey Wrestling Hall of Fame. Polly taught business subjects at Lenape and then served 15 years as food writer for The Central Record. She is a member of the Philadelphia Culinary Society and the Mount Holly Auxiliary to Virtua Memorial Hospital.

The Schnepfs have three children and three grandchildren.

Daniel Seeger, 168 Woodside Drive (609-914-0151), the son of Medford Leas residents Andrew & Dorothy Seeger, retired from the staff of Pendle Hill where he was Executive Director for nine years. Previously, he was Executive Director of AFSC's New York Metropolitan Regional Office. Since leaving AFSC staff, he has served as a member of AFSC's National Board of Directors. He has also served as Chair of Friends Seminary governing board in New York City, and as a member of boards and commissions of Friends United Meeting (Richmond, IN) and Friends World Committee for Consultation (London). He was presiding clerk at the World Conference of Friends in Kenya in 1991. His work has taken him to countries throughout the world.

Dan is a member of the Lumberton Township Planning Board. His avocations are piano playing and calligraphy. He has a Cambodian-American foster son and daughter-in-law, and a 14-month-old granddaughter. He is a member of Birmingham Monthly Meeting (Philadelphia Yearly Meeting), and is sojourning at Moorestown Monthly Meeting. Raised a Roman Catholic, he became a Quaker as a consequence of his conscientious objection to military service, when AFSC defended him in a federal case in the U.S. Supreme Court.

Nancy Stevens, 172 Woodside Drive (609-267-1139) was born and raised in Bloomsburg, PA. She graduated from Thomas Jefferson University in Philadelphia as an RN and practiced obstetrical nursing in Philadelphia and in Whittier, CA. Returning to Philadelphia, she was employed in microbiology research with Smith-Kline and French Laboratories (SKF). In 1964, she was awarded a full-time scholarship by SKF to attend Douglass College, the women's college of Rutgers. Graduating from Douglass in 1967 with Phi Beta Kappa honors, she went on to earn a master's at Rutgers' Institute of Microbiology. After graduation, she was employed by CIBA-GEIGY Pharmaceuticals in Summit, NJ, where she continued until early retirement in 1990. At CIBA-GEIGY, she was involved with virus research, research planning, scientific information activities and regulatory affairs dealing with the Food and Drug Administration in Washington, DC.

Since 1994, Nancy and her friend, Claire Engle, and their two poodles, Sarah and Katy, have lived in North Carolina and New York.

David & Miriam (Oliver) Swartz, 68 Woodside Dr. (609-702-5735) met at Westtown School. He attended the University of Vermont, she Bates College. They transferred to West Virginia University, Miriam majoring in Biology and Botany, and David in Business Administration, after they married.

Dave worked for the NY Life Insurance Co., first in the Philadelphia area, then in Ohio, Michigan, Connecticut, and finally the home office in New York City. He was president of the Board of Managers of Oakwood Friends School and continues on the Board; treasurer of the Housatonic Friends Meeting in New Milford, CT, and active in the New York Yearly Meeting of Friends. He relaxes with books, repairs the cane on chairs, and enjoys sailing.

Miriam retired after 17 years as an aide in the Chapter I Program in the Danbury schools. She taught first grade pupils who were emotionally or physically not ready to read and write but had to be in school because they were seven years old. She was active in their Friends Meeting and recently was a delegate to the Triennial Sessions of the Friends World Committee for Consultation. She is a quilter, a birder and a gardener.

The Swartz's lived in Danbury, CT for 21 years before moving here. They have four daughters and six grandchildren.

Shulamith "Shully" (Novick) Weiss, 147 Woodside Dr. (609-518-7153) moved here from the Woodcrest section of Cherry Hill, where she and her husband, Herman, raised their son and two daughters, who have produced 12 grand-children and four great-grandchildren to date.

Shully works two days a week at a nursing home handling their accounts payable and tries to play golf twice a week. She is a bridge player and would like to find a group to join for bridge. She enjoys sewing things like clothes and curtains, and needlepoint projects, like pictures, prayer shawl bags, and chairs. She has been active in the Cherry Hill community and has traveled to many parts of the world. She visits Israel frequently to see her brother and her daughter and their families.
